THE PEOPLE'S VICTORY. Seth Low Says Election Is a Vindication of Universal Suffrage. New York, Nov. 6.—Seth Low has given out a formal statement in which outcome of this election is a splendid vindleation of universal suf-frage. From all parts of the city have come the votes that have rebuked the Tammany orgy of the last four years. All the patronage of the city and limitless money have not availed against the aroused indignation of the people and it is safe to say that absentee govern-ment and government for private gain will not be seen again in New York city for many a day. This is no man's tri-umph, but it is the people's victory. The agencies that have brought it about are many. Those who labored so long and it is safe to say that absentee governso patiently to bring a out the successful fusion of many elements and those who have supported the fusion so loyally are entitled to the greatest credit. For myself, I ask for the generous and constant support of the community in the great task to which it has summer as me."

Mr. Low is in receipt of hundreds of telegrams from prominent men not only in the city, but also from different parts in the city, but also from different parts of the state and country, among them being congratulations from President Roosevelt and Senator Foraker of Ohio. Edward M. Shepard made public acknowledgment of his defeat at police headquarters in Brooklyn. He sent a telegram of congratulation to Mr. Low and dictated a statement to the reporters in which he expressed his hope that the incoming administration would that the incoming administration would be a successful one. His telegram read: "With all sincerity I wish you the utmost success in the great office to which the people of Greater New York have called you."

Mr. Shepard then dictated this state-

"I sincerely wish Mr. Low a thoroughly successful administration. The peo-ple have indicated their decided prefer-ence. Not only is it the duty of good citizens to cheerfully acquiesce in the result but he should do his utmost to make the result beneficial to the city. All of us—Republicans and Democrats alike—should loyally hold up the hands of those whom the people have chosen in all good work on their part.

"Of course I regret the result, but trust that the munificent purposes which those who nominated me and I

by the Democratic organization in five oroughs.
"I believe that the faith of the New York Democracy, notwithstanding this temporary defeat is definitely set for a future of a political reform which will at no distant day bring to the party merited honor and success."

ROOSEVELT PLEASED.

Wired His Congratulations to Low

Washington, Nov. 6.—President Rooseveit returned to the city last night at 9:39 from Oyster Bay, where he cast his ballot. With him were Mrs. Rooseveit, Secretary Cortelyou, Private Secretary Loeb and Dr. P. M. Rixey. The party occupied the private car "Lucania," which was attached to the rear of the Florida and Southwestern express of the Pennsylvania railway. On arrival here the president, after shaking hands with the porter, led the way with Mrs. Roosevelt to the carriages in waiting, and the party were taken directly to the White House. Quite a number of persons were assembled at the station, and the president lifted his hat several times in response to their salutations. An extra detail of police and a large force of secret service officers were on hand to see that no harm befell the chief executive. The president's trip from New York to Washington was without special incident.

dent's trip from New York to Washington was without special incident. The party remained in the car and avoided moving about to any extent. At Jersey City the president shook hands with a number of friends while waiting for the train to leave.

President Roosevelt was kept informed of the results of the election during the evening while aboard the train returning to Washington and later at the White House by the Associated Press bulletins and by private dispatches. While anxious for news from every quarter, his greatest interest centered in the contest in New York, and he expressed keen satisfaction over the election of the fusion ticket there.

Soon after reaching the White House he telegraphed his congratulations to Mayor-elect Low, and later, when the election of Mr. Jerome appeared to be

CROKER'S LAST CAMPAIGN. Boss Will Turn Over Leadership to John F. Carroll,

New York, Nov. 6.-Mr. Croker, Maurice Untermeyer and Senator T. D. Sullivan were together at dinner last night and it is said on good authority that a little later Mr. Croker said this was his last political fight. Mr. Croker asked Senator Sullivan whom he desired as leader. Senator Sullivan answered that John F. Carroll would be pleasing to him. Then and there, it is stated. John F. Carroll would be pleasing to him. Then and there, it is stated, Richard Croker abdicated his leader-ship of Tammany Hall and turned it over to John F. Carroll.

There was some discussion as to the plans of a reorganization of Tammany, it which Mr. Croker took popular year

The Westminster Gazette remarks:

With a president who has de-clared against the spoils system and a detammanyized New York, the admin-istrative outlook for the United States is brighter than for a long time past."

CROKER ON THE RESULT. Tammany Boss Says People Wanted

New York, Nov. 6.—Richard Croker, commenting on Mr. Shepard's defeat, said he could not ascribe it to any one issue. "The people wanted a change," said he, "and the organization bows to the will of the people. Tammany Hall has been in power for practically seventeen years and if any appropriate them. has been in power for practically seven-teen years, and if any one party were to remain in control for too long a pe-riod the tendency would be toward a perpetuation of power until the result would resemble a monarchy. Tammany Hall has always profited by defeat, and I hope will do so this time."

Mr. Croker said that all dissatisfied persons have voted against the Demoersons have voted against the Demo-ratic nominess, and had done much or the result. As to his own plans for the immediate future he had nothing to the inimediate future he had nothing to say. He said, however, that Mr. Low would have the good wishes of the Democracy in his administration,

Mr. Low gave one million dollars to Columbia college to build a library, of which he was president, but the building contains no plainer room than its giver's office.

Mr. Low is Democratic, and in politics his first question is always, "is it a prac-lical scheme?" Among his professors and students he is called "the open minded students he is called the open man."

After accepting the mayoralty nomination he resigned the college presidency. He was the least bookish professor in Columbia. Mr. Low is the possessor of a clear head and a good digestion; a lover of athletic sports and—a good cigar.

Mr. Low's home, at Sixty-fourth street and Madison avenue, is one of the cheracter of the man. Its whole air is sunny cheerfulness and quiet restful tones. It is the home of a thinking man—the books and pictures tell that—and it is likewise the hubitat of a man. is the nome of a transfer and it is likewise the habitat of a man.

At the age of M Low was mayor of Brooklyn, and the corruptionists of both parties still shiver at the thought of the

One day shortly after Seth Low was elected mayor he received a letter from a citizen. The citizen had some substantial ground for complaint against a city official. The mayor sought the city official. The city official was at the races or a base ball match, his subordinates did not know which. Then the mayor took a stroll through the other departments. He found that the responsible heads of these were also at the races or at base ball matches. The next morning there came a notice from the mayor to the effect that all heads of departments not willing to work eight hours a day for the $5,000 or so that the city paid them might send in their resignations. He intimated further that he expected as good service from heads of departments as from street laborers, who worked, for $1.50 a day. This was a new and anarchistic principle in politics, but somehow the people liked it. Thereafter when $1 citizen called at a city department with reference to a matter of taxation or something of that sort he was civilly treated.

The administration of Mr. Low in Brooklyn made a new record in the government of American municipalities. Brooklyn sexperience showed that patronage could be disposed of according to merit instead of as a reward for partisan services.

The president of Columbia is trusted by all classes of society. In 1896 Mr. Low was referee between the New York Typothetae and Typographical union No. 6 and the next year he was asked to determine the rights of the Enterprise union of steam fitters and the Plumbers' union. Not a year later Seth Low headed the United States delegation to the peace conference at The Hague and signed the protocol which announced to the world the policy of the American government with respect to the Monroe doctrine. New York. Nov. 6.—Seth Low, as mayor of Greater New York, will have a salary of $15,000. He will, in the first place, have the privilege of appointing such cierks and assistants in the mayor's office as he may choose. He may appoint commissioners and heads of departments to succeed the present incumbents in most of the executive departments of the city government.

New York Nov. 6.—In no municipal election in the history of New York has there been so much money bet. It was estimated by those thoroughly conversant with the facts that $1,000,000 will change hands on the result. George Wheelock alone wins $130,000 and Frederick H. Brooks for his friends wins $110,000. Then there was the put of $300,000 gathered together by Frank Farrell and his friends. This was taken by the Low men at the various race tracks. Joe Vendig is probably the heaviest individual loser on Shepard. It was said at the Hoffman house last night that Vendig, both for himself and his friends, had dropped about $300,000. The wost beaten man as a bettor is Senator Timothy "Dry Dollar" Sullivan. He staked, it is said, every cent that he had and every cent that could be gathered together by his friends. No for many years has there been so great a delay in arriving at the result in the city, as there was last night. Under or-dinary conditions the entire vote has been counted and announced by 1 o'clock but at that hour last night less than 150 precincts, not half of the city, had been reported and from the counties not over a dozen election districts had been heard from in this city.

If one be not well informed down to date in Chinese politics one never knew whether Prince Li was in power or in disgrace. Li began his public career in 1850, and his first important coup was made during the rebellion of Tai-Ping. He was rapidly promoted therough governorships and vice regal offices until he became the emperor's most valued subject. Since 1895, however, his way has been quite thorny. The prince is the leader of the progressive party in China. He has been ever an ardent admirer of General Grant, whom he loved not only for that great man's soldiery and heroism, but also for his fame as a statesman. It was this admiration for the general's genius that made Li so eager to visit the tomb of his great friend at New York on the occasion of the prince's visit to the Occident. The Selection of the Jury Now Going On. Oskaloosa, Kansas, Nov. 6.-The trial of W. H. Klusmire for the murder of his wife was begun in the Jefferson county court here today. A change of venue secured at the September court in Jackson county brought the case away from Holton where the crime was committed on the night of May 12 last. Before the trial of Klusmire had progressed an hour this morning it was halted by an exhaustion of the jury panel. There were 24 jurors in the original panel. When the attorneys began the collection of the jury it was readily seen that the state would make little progress today and that the real battle will begin tomorrow.

court overruled the motion.

Judge Welch stated that the information was drawn word for word like the O'Neil case, passed upon by the supreme court.

The attorneys for the defense excepted to the ruling of Judge Gephart for cause in carrying the case higher, if
